

FNew's official 'About Privacy' page.

I = Marnix 0810 but also FNew, because FNew and this document are made by me, Marnix 0810.

The site= In this case, FNew or parts of 'The Marnix 0810 Site' that are reserved for FNew.

FNew= The site, found at <https://marnix0810.github.io/FNew/>, everything hosted on it and the (desktop) application(s)

Okay, at first...

I don't know how to put all this privacy stuff in a document and make it look neat, so it will not be like other privacy documents I guess... I hope that's ok!

Here it comes!

My aim is to have users that trust the service they use, so I don't collect data about you behind your backs. That's for certain. Any data I have is collected using one of the forms on FNew.

I do have partners that might collect data, but are trusted by me (I don't know what they know about you):

- Formspre (I use this service to connect my forms to my mailbox)
- Github (Github hosts the site and files for FNew, like this document)
- AddToAny (I use this service to create nice-looking share buttons on FNew)

Of course these services and companies can collect information about you, but if they do I won't have collected it, you will need to ask them about their privacy documentary.

I also do have a database about who would like to receive an email (and under what conditions), but this data is based on emails you send me or the Sign-up form of FNew.

Questions?

If you have any questions regarding FNew's privacy or this document, please mail to Fnew-Privacy@email.com.

Thank you for reading.
